

WHY SUPPORT NATIONAL EPILEPSY AWARENESS MONTH?

The Epilepsy Centre has been operating for over 48 years and is committed to providing quality services and support to people living with epilepsy and improving community awareness and attitudes in South Australia and The Northern Territory.

With 63,000 people living with epilepsy in South Australia and 24,000 people living with epilepsy in the Northern Territory we need to spread the awareness.

Epilepsy can be a devastating condition to manage and the support and The Epilepsy Centre provides vital information and services to the community which is absolute necessity.

Unfortunately, the suicide rate among youth living with epilepsy is 25% higher than the general population due to difficulties in securing employment, maintaining friendships and holding a driver's licence. It is a life of uncertainty, confusion, isolation and embarrassment which no one should have to endure.

SO WE ARE GOING TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE THROUGHOUT THE MONTH OF MARCH!

So with your support, it is critical to our epilepsy community that we raise funds and share the awareness so everyone understands that The Epilepsy Centre is here to assist those in need of support, education and training.

Please call National Epilepsy Support Service (NESS Line) on 1300 761 487

So Let's Go and know that you are our Hero in spreading the word in March!
